A Playful Conversation
with
Julie Carlson & Aranye Fradenburg

November 13, 2015
1:00 PM - 2:30 PM
The Sankey Room
(South Hall 2623)

Readings will be precirculated. Contact Kristy McCants at emcfellow@gmail.com for copies!

Julie Carlson is a Professor in the English Department at the University of California, Santa Barbara. She received her Ph.D. from the University of Chicago in 1985. She is the author of England’s First Family of Writers: Mary Wollstonecraft, William Godwin, Mary Shelley, In the Theatre of Romanticism: Coleridge, Nationalism, Women; guest editor of Domestic/Tragedy (South Atlantic Quarterly) and various articles on romantic drama and theater.

Aranye Fradenburg is Professor of English, Comparative Literature, and Medieval Studies at UCSB, where she founded the English Department’s specialization in “Literature and the Mind.” She also holds a Ph.D. in Psychoanalysis from the New Center for Psychoanalysis in Los Angeles. She received her Ph.D. in English from the University of Virginia and taught at Dartmouth College before moving to UCSB. She is the author of City, Marriage Tournament: Arts of Rule in Late Medieval Scotland; Sacrifice Your Love: Psychoanalysis, Historicism, Chaucer; Staying Alive: A Survival Manual for the Liberal Arts, and many articles on a variety of topics from medieval literature to cognitive literary studies and psychoanalytic technique.